WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—Congressmen Kahn, McKinley and Hayes have been appointed as House Committee on Japanese legislation.

VERMONT LAW IS BETTER THAN OURS

The case against W. C. Peacock, charged with selling adulterated liquor, was continued this afternoon till Friday at 2 o'clock by Judge Whitney, after more argument on the admissibility of the Pharmacopoeia as evidence. The fact was brought out that the Vermont law, upon which the Hawaiian law is based, provides that copies certified to by the Secretary of State shall be distributed to the various townships, thus making those copies official. In the local law there is no such provision which makes it weak.

The argument will be continued on Friday and Deputy Attorney-General Prosser, who, with Attorney Andrew, is conducting the prosecution, stated that he will bring in authorities which will clinch his arguments. Attorneys Breckin and Astford are just as confident on their side.

When the Peacock case was called this afternoon Judge Whitney announced that while he was not prepared to go ahead with the proof of adulteration of liquor he would like to hear the arguments on the admissibility of the copy of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia evidence.

Attorney R. W. Breckin called attention to the fact that the title on the book was all there was to show that the book was the one named by the law. "If you had a book here which had a title 'The Holy Bible,' would you accept it as evidence that the book was a Bible?"

"No, you would have to bring Moses here to testify that he wrote it to support the defense," replied Deputy Attorney General Prosser.

Breckin went on to show that if the rules in the Pharmacopoeia were followed that every whiskey would be adulterated. That to add water to some whiskey would adulterate it and that if water were not added to other whiskey it would be adulterated.

Prosser made a strong argument in

FILIPINOS ARE TO BE SENT TO OLA A

Fifteen Single Men On Doric Will Work On Trial

The Filipinos, who will arrive here under the mentorship of Albert S. Judd in the Doric next Friday, will all be sent to Ola plantation. There are only fifteen of them, all single men.

On the result of the behavior and work of this sample of fifteen the decision as to whether more Filipinos should be imported or not will largely be based.

Comparatively little is known about the Filipinos who are coming, and the arrangements which Judd has made. The fifteen who are coming here speak of the numerous Filipino dialects, but it is believed that one of them is sufficiently acquainted with the English language to be able to act as an interpreter. Should the sample lot turn out to be satisfactory, they will undoubtedly be followed by a larger shipment. No definite information has been received as to what arrangements Judd has made for the securing of such future shipments. While he was in Manila he is known to have engaged in negotiations, and it is quite probable that this man may be ready to look after them, should they be wanted.

The argument will be continued on Friday and Deputy Attorney-General Prosser, who, with Attorney Andrew, is conducting the prosecution, stated that he will bring in authorities which will clinch his arguments. Attorneys Breckin and Astford are just as confident on their side.

favor of admitting the book as evidence, offering the fact that the book had been copyrighted and that it had been adopted by the association of phyicians.
